PROJECTS

Open IIT product design:

- The idea is a product design of a headwear, which comprises of a camera and a Raspberry Pi module on the backend, which captures sign language and converts it into text/audio.
- This helps mute people who does not know sign language.
- It also helps to make the communication between differently abled people and others smoother.

DIY Project:

- Computer Vision Based:
System that will track the motion of a moving object, and a signal will be given when the object crosses the line.
- This System that does not rely on cameras, instead using a magnetic field to track the ball.
- A sensor is embedded inside the ball, which detects the magnetic field produced by thin wires run underneath the penalty box.
- A computer tracks the position of the ball via the sensor and detects when the ball crosses the goal line.
